The Property

A well-proportioned bright apartment with thoughtfully designed living space

Throughout the apartment, the considered design combines contemporary elements with characterful touches, creating a well-balanced space that feels both refined and welcoming.

Indoor Spaces

Upon entering, the eye is drawn to the reception room that flows seamlessly into the open-plan kitchen, fitted with custom copper fronted cabinetry complemented by green granite countertops, along with integrated appliances. Three South facing windows bathe the space in natural light, and hardwood flooring brings a sense of warmth.

The Bedrooms

The flat offers two well-proportioned bedrooms facing South West over Freston Road. The principal bedroom features built-in wardrobes providing excellent storage, and benefits from an en-suite shower room with contemporary fixtures. The second bedroom is equally well-sized and also includes its own en-suite bathroom and built-in wardrobes.

The Neighbourhood

The property is found within the former Bramley Arms, an historic pub constructed around 1870 and is well-known for being the location for a number of films through the 1950's until it's conversion in the late 1980's. Situated at the quiet and secluded end of Bramley Road, the building has been carefully refurbished and maintained to highlight its history and character.

The property is ideally located in close proximity to Portobello Road, Holland Park & Shepherds Bush, with excellent transport links and Latimer Road station moments away, providing convenient access to central London.
