The Property

A beautifully presented Victorian terraced house over multiple levels.

Entering the house on the ground floor, you are welcomed into an entrance hall that leads to two generous reception rooms. The front reception room features a large bay window, filling the space with light. Both rooms showcase high ceilings with moulded cornices and wooden floors. At the end of the hall sits a space currently set as a dressing room, but could easily be a comfortable guest bedroom.

Indoor Spaces

The lower ground floor houses the heart of the home, with a spacious dining room featuring French doors that open directly onto the garden. The kitchen is thoughtfully positioned adjacent to the dining area, while a comfortable sitting room completes this level, creating excellent entertaining space.

The Bedrooms

Ascending to the first floor, two well-proportioned bedrooms are served by a family bathroom. The principal bedroom on the second floor offers generous proportions and benefits from a dressing room and spacious ensuite bathroom, as well as a study, ideal for those working from home. The third floor provides an additional bedroom, also with an ensuite bathroom and benefiting from the property's lofty proportions.

Outdoor Spaces

The property includes a private garden accessible from the dining room, while double doors from the second-floor half landing offers an additional outdoor retreat with rooftop views across the surrounding area.

The Neighbourhood

Ifield Road is a quiet residential street in the heart of Chelsea, moments away from the King's Road with its upmarket boutiques and many restaurants. The property is within easy reach of Sloane Square and South Kensington stations, providing excellent transport links across London. The nearby Chelsea Physic Garden and the open spaces of Battersea Park are a short walk away, while the cultural attractions of the Victoria & Albert Museum and Natural History Museum are within walking distance.
