The Property

A characterful house midway between the King's Road and the Thames Embankment

The house has been decorated in a colourful fashion that adds to the character and charm of the interiors.

Indoor Spaces

Stepping into the house on the ground floor, the front door opens directly onto a generous living area. This includes a reception room, with wooden floors, and a dining area with an overhead skylight. The dining area flows through to a cosy kitchen with fitted units.

The Bedrooms

The first floor features a pair of bedrooms, one of them ensuite and the other with a bathroom opposite. The second floor offers a third bedroom, this one with an ensuite bathroom and eaves storage.

The Neighbourhood

The property includes a paved front terrace with enough space for outdoor seating.

Upper Cheyne Row is one of the most attractive streets in the Chelsea village. It is lined with a mix of Georgian, Victorian and Edwardian houses, as well as the beautiful St Thomas More Catholic Church. This property lies at the pedestrianised western end of the street, which has the quiet and secluded feel of a mews.

The Thames Embankment lies to the south, with the Albert Bridge leading to Battersea Park. Meanwhile, the King's Road lies to the north, with its excellent range of restaurants and shops. In addition, the Chelsea Physic Garden is a short walk away.
