The Property

CLOSE X

A substantial multi-level townhouse arranged over four floors, newly redecorated throughout.

Entering the house on the ground floor, the principal drawing room is a well-proportioned space with wooden floors and recessed ceiling lighting, offering a real sense of scale. Built-in shelving adds a considered, practical element, while a recessed fireplace with a flat-screen television above creates a natural focal point. Glass doors at the far end open directly to the garden steps beyond.

Entertaining Spaces

The lower ground floor houses the kitchen and dining room — a generous, open space fitted with a stove and oven, with room for a long dining table and bench seating. Recessed lighting runs the length of the ceiling, and glass doors open directly to the garden. Two vaults on this level provide useful storage.

The Bedrooms

CLOSE X

On the first floor, the master bedroom is a bright, well-proportioned room with light wooden flooring and large windows dressed with white and pink curtains. A study provides a refined and practical addition to this level, with a bathroom and a further washroom on the half landing. The second floor accommodates two further bedrooms, both quietly positioned at the top of the house.

The Neighbourhood

The property benefits from a garden, accessible from the lower ground floor, with steps leading up to a paved patio area bordered by a stone wall and established greenery.

Cadogan Place sits at the heart of Chelsea, one of London's most sought-after addresses. Sloane Square station is moments away, providing swift connections across the city. The area is exceptionally well served by the upmarket boutiques and restaurants of the King's Road and Sloane Street, while the open spaces of Hyde Park and Battersea Park are within easy reach.
